ApnoMart Q2 2026 — Strategic Insights

Analyst: Minna Nourin
Date: November 2026
Tool Used: Microsoft Power BI
Dataset: ApnoMart Sales Dataset (1,200 records)
Data Coverage: May–October 2026

INSIGHT 1: Revenue Pattern

Furniture is the highest revenue-generating category, contributing ₹35.18 lakh (21.63%) of total sales of ₹1.63 crore. East region recorded the highest regional sales at ₹34.37 lakh, while July was the strongest month with ₹29.58 lakh in sales. October recorded the lowest monthly sales at ₹24.72 lakh.

So What: Furniture is a key revenue driver, and the decline in sales during October indicates a need to investigate seasonal demand and improve sales campaigns during weaker months.

INSIGHT 2: Profitability Pattern

Office Supplies generated ₹11.77 lakh in profit with the highest profit margin of 34.80%, while Electronics generated ₹5.58 lakh in profit with the lowest margin of 18.88%. The overall weighted profit margin of ApnoMart is 27.18%.

So What: Office Supplies offers stronger profitability, whereas Electronics requires attention to pricing, product costs and discount strategies to improve margins without reducing sales unnecessarily.

INSIGHT 3: Customer Behavior Pattern

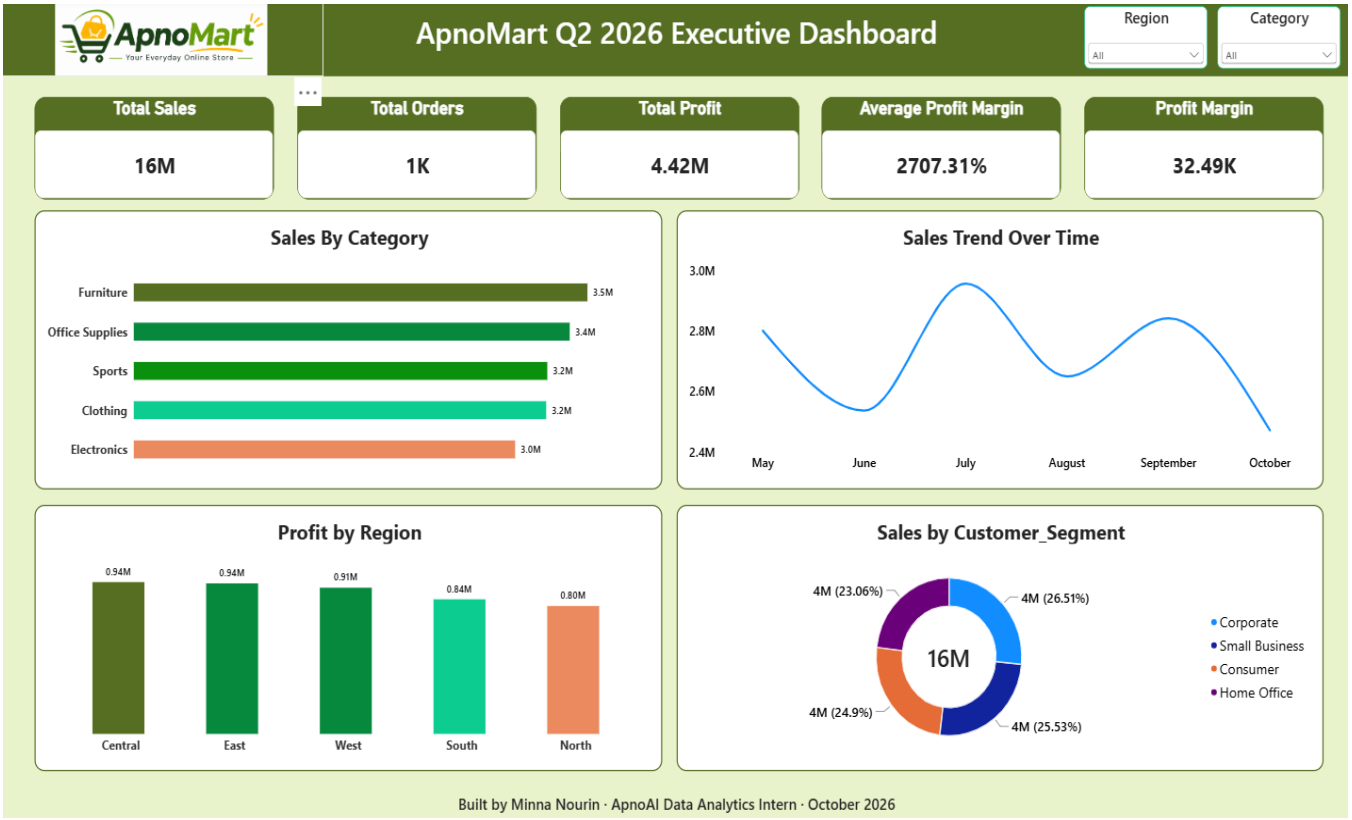

The Corporate customer segment generated the highest revenue, contributing ₹43.11 lakh (26.51%) of total sales, followed by Small Business at ₹41.52 lakh (25.53%). Cash was the most-used payment method by sales value, contributing ₹35.74 lakh (21.98%) across 258 orders.

So What: Corporate customers represent an important revenue opportunity. ApnoMart should strengthen corporate customer relationships and maintain convenient payment options, including Cash and UPI.

STRATEGIC RECOMMENDATION

For the next quarter, ApnoMart should prioritize improving Electronics profitability through a review of pricing, product costs and discount policies, while strengthening sales of high-margin Office Supplies. The company should also introduce targeted offers for Corporate customers and investigate the October sales decline to improve revenue consistency and overall profitability.

DASHBOARD SCREENSHOT

Built for ApnoAI Data Analytics Internship · October 2026